

Teacher Guided Self-Study Internet Guide

Printed below is a list of useful websites for developing your English during your guided study sessions.

List of sites:

www.learn-english-online.org – Very good site for beginners and elementary students to practice grammar.

www.international.ouc.bc.ca/pronunciation - A good site for pronunciation practice, focusing on the different sounds of English.

www.bbc.co.uk/worldservice/learningenglish - good for listening to up to date news stories in English. It includes help with grammar and vocabulary. It also has a forum for questions about English. You will also find lots of song lyrics, grammar exercises and vocabulary quizzes.

www.a4esl.org – A great site for testing yourself. It specializes in grammar and vocabulary tests and has a wide range of bilingual tests (English-German, English-Korean, English-Spanish, etc.)

www.npr.org – A good site for listening. Lots of interesting radio programmes on different topics, with scripts included.

www.towerofenglish.com – A menu of over 300 different sites for English learning. Pick your topic and follow the link.

www.britishcouncil.org/central - It has many interesting listening and reading texts organized into topics such as: History, Sport, Culture, etc. Some nice work on poetry as well.

www.esl.about.com – very big site which includes exercises on different topics, grammar and vocabulary quizzes and Cambridge Exam preparation.

www.english-at-home.com – Basic mix of grammar, vocabulary and reading activities.

www.englishpage.com – Site specializing in grammar, with very nice exercises for verb + preposition study. It also has a good list of sites for listening in English.

www.english-zone.com – Big site with lots of printable exercises so you can generate your own homework.

www.breakingnewsenglish.com – Very good site for reading and vocabulary. Graded exercises based on current new stories.

www.flo-joe.co.uk – Exam practice. Excellent site for preparing the FCE, CAE and CPE exams. It focuses on reading and use of English www.learnenglishfeelgood.com/eslvideo/index.html - Short video clips from real movies, with listening comprehension questions.

www.world-english.org – A large list of useful sites for grammar, vocabulary and listening. As well as a selection of interesting lists. For example “the top 500 words in English”.

<http://teacherluke.co.uk/> – Luke’s English Podcast. 100% real British English. Listening, videos and more.

www.esl-lab.com. Lots of audios with quizzes and listening activities to reinforce vocabulary and grammar.

www.ted.com/talks - Site with a huge amount of videos about TED conferences <http://www.englishgrammar.org/exercises/> - Great sites with lots of quizzes about different aspects of the English language.

<https://learnenglish.britishcouncil.org/es/grammar-exercises>. A site from the British Council with grammar exercises. Intended for Spanish students.

<https://elt.oup.com/student/practicegrammar/?cc=global&selLanguage=en> – Oxford provides activities to practice grammar. By choosing one of the three levels proposed you will be able to practice different aspects of the English language .

http://grammar.ccc.commnet.edu/grammar/quiz_list.htm - Quizzes about grammar.

<http://www.perfect-english-grammar.com/grammar-exercises.html> - A site which includes a wide range of grammar activities and videos describing some grammatical aspects.

<http://www.learn-english-today.com/lessons/exercise-list.html> -A site with a great deal of grammar activities

DICTIONARIES:

www.wordreferences.com – Online dictionary from English to many languages.

<http://dictionary.cambridge.org/es> - Online dictionary from Cambridge

<http://www.vocabulary.com/> - Online monolingual dictionary. Great for definitions and as a thesaurus.

<http://es.thefreedictionary.com/> - Complete online dictionary.